BCTF RATIFICATION VOTE – SEPTEMBER 18, 2014

September 18, 2014

The teachers of British Columbia are voting whether to ratify the “tentative agreement” reached by BCTF and the Government on September 18, 2014. Unfortunately the results of that vote will not be available until approximately 9:00pm this evening.

It is expected that the vote will be in favor of acceptance but there is never a guarantee of a specific outcome.

That being the case I will have information prepared for posting as soon as I receive notice of the outcome of the ratification vote and will have it posted on the Teamster website. I am sure the information will also be available through various media outlets.

In any case, the District courses will still be running tomorrow so if you are able to attend work sites tomorrow you may opt to maintain your spot at your registered course and then go to work or inform the District that you are not attending course and report only to your work site.
